KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

2016

Oscar-, Emmy- and Tony-winning actress Jessica Lange, 68, recently stepped out looking very different than she did just last year. And though the American Horror Story star has kept mum on the subject, experts believe she's had some help from docs. "It looks like she had a standard face-lift," says plastic surgeon Dr. Steve Fallek, who, like the other doctors consulted for this story, hasn't treated the star. "She looks better, and she still looks like herself." Plastic surgeon Dr. Lyle Back is also impressed, and notes some non-surgical touches. "With her hair color lighter and some expert makeup work," says Dr. Back, "this is an overall A-plus improvement." Some docs aren't as enthusiastic. "I think she's too much filler in her mid-face," says dermatologist Dr. Gary Goldenberg, "producing the 'chipmunk' look." Adds plastic surgeon Dr. Ryan Neinstein: "I would have used less filler in the cheeks. But beauty is in the eye of the beholder!" LS

"She looks softer and more youthful."

JESSICA'S

NOW

BROWS

Jessica's eyebrows are "more gently elevated, giving her a much more pleasant and relaxed look," says Dr. Back. He sees signs of Botox, which costs $750 to $1K every four months.

CHEEKS

Dr. Back says Jessica likely used a filler such as Juvéderm to make her face appear less gaunt. "She looks more invigorated, less tired," he says. Price tag: $3K to $4K every six months.

SKIN

"She has a renewed youthful glow," says Dr. Neinstein, who believes that "collagen rejuvenation through laser treatments" are to thank. Cost? About $5K per treatment.

LIPS

"Her lips are more full and upturned now," says Dr. Goldenberg, who believes Jessica used fillers ($850-$1.7K). Dr. Back suggests more filler in the upper lip, less in the lower.
