STRANGER OF THE WEEK

BETHENNY LOOKS SO DIFFERENT!

Who's that housewife?! RHONY's Bethenny Frankel stepped out in November looking...nothing like herself. And while she's previously denied having plastic surgery, the Skinnygirl founder, 48, has claimed that after Botox injections to her jaw, "my face completely changed." Still, NYC-area experts (who have not treated her) suspect it's changed a lot more – and not just from Botox. "She's pulled a bit in her cheek area, and her lower eyelids look off. These would be telltale signs of a face-lift," Dr. Steve Fallek tells In Touch, while dermatologist Dr. Gary Goldenberg guesses "she's had her eyes done" as well. And it's not like Bethenny would be against going under the knife. "If your car has a wheel falling off," she said earlier this year, "then you're gonna go to the shop and get it put back on!"
