Too Much Filler? THEY'VE GOT PILLOW FACES

Why are these stars looking so puffed and stuffed? Docs weigh in!

MELANIE "MEL B" BROWN, 42

The America's Got Talent judge has never admitted to fillers, but Troy, Mich., plastic surgeon Dr. Anthony Youn thinks she's had them: "Her face looks stiff and puffy."

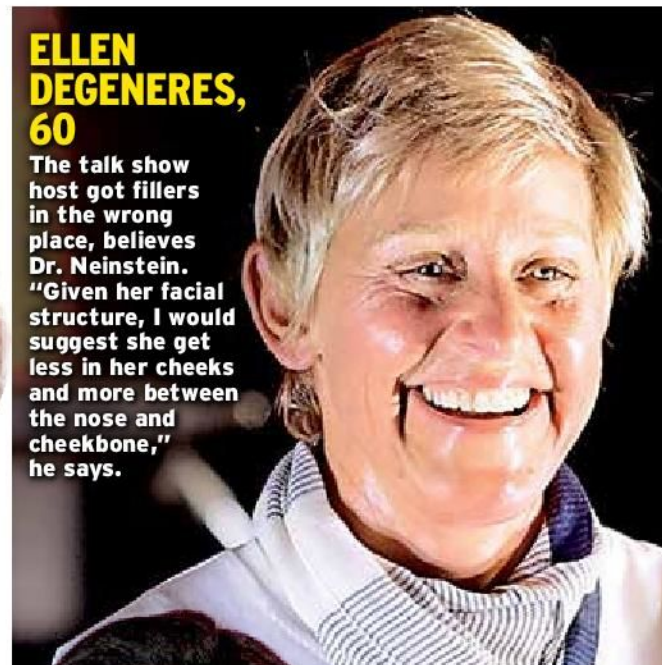

COURTNEY LOVE, 53

The rocker chick's cheeks stand out – and not in a good way, says NYC-based plastic surgeon Dr. Ryan Neinstein, who suspects filler was poorly placed in her midface. "Her cheeks look very exaggerated."

ELLEN DEGENERES, 60

The talk show host got fillers in the wrong place, believes Dr. Neinstein. "Given her facial structure, I would suggest she get less in her cheeks and more between the nose and cheekbone," he says.

MARIE OSMOND, 58

"Will I do [plastic surgery]? I'm sure. Nobody wants to have a saggy jawl," the icon said in 2011. But Dr. Goldenberg thinks she's "had a little bit too much" filler in her cheeks, under her eyes and in her smile lines.

CHRISTIE BRINKLEY, 64

The model has admitted to getting "a little bit of filler," but NYC-based cosmetic dermatologist Dr. Tabasum Mir thinks it is "pushing up on her eyes, making them look smaller."

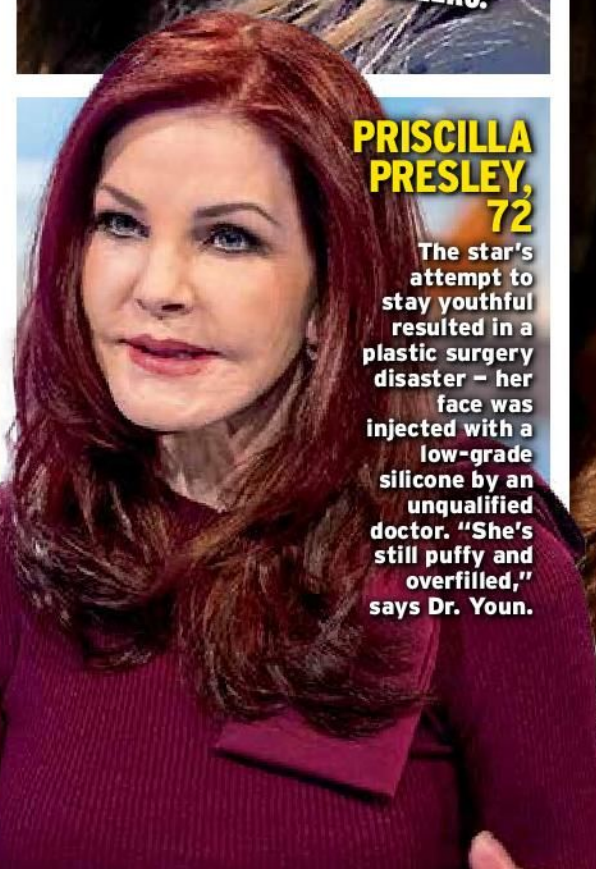

CATHERINE ZETA- JONES, 48

"I have not been under the knife... yet," says the star, but Dr. Youn thinks her "unnaturally smooth" face is due to filler in her "frown lines and cheeks."

PRISCILLA PRESLEY, 72

The star's attempt to stay youthful resulted in a plastic surgery disaster – her face was injected with a low-grade silicone by an unqualified doctor. "She's still puffy and overfilled," says Dr. Youn.

LINDSAY LOHAN, 31

The "disharmony" between LiLo's "upper and lower face" is no doubt the result of overzealous filler, says New Jersey-based plastic surgeon Dr. Steve Fallek.

JADA PINKETT SMITH, 46

"This is me, this is my skin, this is my face...love it or leave it," says the star. But NYC-based Dr. Gary Goldenberg thinks fillers are to blame for "too much volume while smiling."

IGGY AZALEA, 27

"Denying it is lame," the rapper once said about plastic surgery. There's no denying this: "Her cheek filler is overdone," says Dr. Neinstein.

MADONNA, 59

The Material Girl has stepped out looking overfilled – and "unrecognizable," says Dr. Youn. "I hope her injections were recent and this is due to swelling!"
